In 2003, ICC created 12 Regions to encourage the formation of Regional Chapters. There are significant benefits for state and local chapters to participate at the region level. Regional chapters can create stronger more unified networks of building safety professionals, provide greater political strength when addressing code adoption and code development issues, and deal more effectively with state legislators.

ICC Region VIII was established in 2005 and consists of NC, SC, TN and GA. Bruce Boulineau, SC was president. Rick Shepherd, TN (Metro Government of Nashville) is current president. We host quarterly meetings, which alternate between the 4 states. Each state is represented on the Executive Board.

The President and Executive Board invite you to join us as members of ICC Region 8. We ask you to look over the benefits of membership, fill out the application (see next page) and become a part of our organization.

Benefits of Region 8 Membership:

- Stronger, more unified and local network of building safety professionals.
- Greater political strength when addressing code adoption initiatives, code development issues, etc.
- Deal more effectively with state legislators by utilizing regional support.
- Bring a regional perspective to ICC committees and other activities.
- More effective communication within the region and ICC.
- Offers a forum to consider regional code related and building safety issues.
- Regional conferences and educational forums.
- Pool resources for shared activities.
- Create codes committees and forums to allow attendance on a local level for those that cannot participate at a national level.
- Means to voice your opinions and concerns.
- Meet local inspectors and building officials throughout our 4 state regions to share issues and concerns and develop lasting and useful relationships.
